THE BENARES HINDU UNIVERSITY.

PRINTED AT THE GYANMANDAL PRESS, BENARES CITY.

1923.

Benares Hindu University Library.

RULES.

1. Books may be taken out on loan by :—
 - (a) Resident members of the University.
 - (b) Members of the staff of the Central Hindu School on the responsibility of the Head Master.
 - (c) Other Universities, learned societies and public libraries on terms of reciprocity, and with the approval of the Library Committee.

2. Reference books shall not be lent out, except to members of the staff and post-graduate students on the recommendation of their professors. Such books must ordinarily be returned within three days.

3. Undergraduate students can borrow two volumes at a time and keep them for a fortnight, post-graduate students can borrow four volumes at a time, and keep them for a month (they may, however, be allowed to borrow to the extent of eight books on the recommendation and responsibility of their professor). Members of the staff can borrow 20 volumes, including course books, and can keep them for a month, subject to recall after 14 days, if required by any other person. Others will be entitled to borrow not more than two volumes at a time, and to keep them for a fortnight only.

4. Borrowers shall be responsible for any damage to books taken out by them, and for their replacement in case of loss. Books must not be transferred by one borrower to another.

5. Books that have been taken out may be recalled at any time.

6. All books issued must be returned three weeks before the summer vacation for the annual stock-taking.

7. Books shall not be kept by the borrower beyond the fixed period but they may be re-issued if there be no other applicant for them.

Non-observance of this rule by students will entail a fine of one anna, per volume per day, except for satisfactory reasons, the amount to be collected by the college authorities along with fees.

8. Books shall not in any case be taken out of the Library by students on consultation forms.
